DETAILED ACTIONClaim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1 and 3-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sangimino.

Re claim 1, Sangimino discloses a flexible passenger vehicle body capable of being transformed into at least two different classes of vehicle styles, comprising a body shell having front (40) and rear openings (56) and at least one pair of transversely opposed door openings (34), a front panel closing the body shell front opening a pair of door panels closing the body shell door openings, a roof panel including a fixed portion (113) and a movable portion (111), the movable portion having attached thereto a pair of transversely opposed rear pillars (58) extending generally downward therefrom to engage the body shell; a back panel (54) coupled to the roof panel movable portion and extending between the rear pillars; a pair of opposing retractable rear side panels (the window associated with the door 34') affixed to the body shell behind the door panels, and a tailgate (124) affixed to the body shell, the tailgate, the retractable rear side panels, the roof panel movable portion and the back panel collectively enclosing the body shell rear opening when the vehicle is in a first body configuration, the front panel, door panels, roof panel, back panel, tailgate and retractable rear side panels defining a fully enclosed passenger space and cargo area within the body shell in the first body configuration when the roof panel movable portion is in a first position, the front panel, door panels, roof panel and back panel defining a contracted enclosed passenger space in a second body configuration when the roof panel movable portion is in a second position, thereby creating an open cargo area behind the contracted enclosed passenger pace (see figures 10 and 1).

Re claim 3, a trunk panel (124) is configured to cooperate with the tailgate and the body shell in a third body configuration, thereby creating a closed cargo area behind the contracted enclosed passenger space.

Re claim 4, the retractable rear side panels include rear side windows (90), the rear side windows being retractable into the body shell.

Re claim 5, a movable side trim panel (88) is disposed adjacent the roof panel, the movable side trim panel being movable between a first position and a second position (see figures 3 and 6), the second position facilitating transformation of the vehicle body from the first body configuration to the second body configuration.

Re claim 6, a garnish panel (88) is provided, the garnish panel being in a first position (as in figure 6) when the vehicle body is in the first body configuration and a third position (as in figure 3) when the vehicle body is in the second body configuration, the garnish panel further being movable to a second position (as in figure 5), thereby facilitating transformation of the vehicle body between the first body configuration and the second body configuration.

Re claim 7, the open cargo area includes a load floor (119), and wherein the tailgate in an open position forms a portion of the load floor.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 2 and 8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
4. Claims 9-27 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 10/12/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The applicant argues with respect to the rejection of claims 1 and 3-7 under 35 USC 102(b) above that the part 113 of the Sangimino is not a "roof panel" as claimed in claim 1 because it does not partially define any vehicle space. The examiner respectfully disagrees. As can be seen in figure 2, the part 113 does cover a portion of the passenger space and comprises a portion of the roof. If the housing 113 were removed, the roof would be incomplete leaving a hole in the roof.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 3612

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
